WEEKLY FINANCIAL NEWS

Financing			Market Commentary
CONV	RATE 5.99%	APR 6.13%
FHA	5.88%	6.25%	Data from S&P Global confirmed that home prices continued to slide in January. The Seasonally adjusted S&P CoreLogic Case-Shiller National Home Price Index registered its seventh consecutive monthly drop, amounting to a peak-to-trough decline of 3.0%. Previously reported data from the National Association of Realtors suggest the median home price bounced back in February, reflecting renewed buyer interest brought on by lower mortgage rates in December and January. Although mortgage rates have since resumed their climb, some of that momentum seems to have carried forward to February evidenced by the upside surprise in pending home sales (+0.8%). Population migration patterns appear to be returning to pre-pandemic norms. The onset of COVID spurred a profound impact on population growth in the United States. One significant change brought on by the pandemic was a rapid decline in net domestic migration for many large urban counties, as these areas experienced fewer new people moving in as well as an outflow of residents. WEEKLY FINANCIAL NEWS

CONV	RATE 5.99%	APR 6.13%
FHA	5.88%	6.25%	Data from S&P Global confirmed that home prices continued to slide in January. The Seasonally adjusted S&P CoreLogic Case-Shiller National Home Price Index registered its seventh consecutive monthly drop, amounting to a peak-to-trough decline of 3.0%. Previously reported data from the National Association of Realtors suggest the median home price bounced back in February, reflecting renewed buyer interest brought on by lower mortgage rates in December and January. Although mortgage rates have since resumed their climb, some of that momentum seems to have carried forward to February evidenced by the upside surprise in pending home sales (+0.8%). Population migration patterns appear to be returning to pre-pandemic norms. The onset of COVID spurred a profound impact on population growth in the United States. One significant change brought on by the pandemic was a rapid decline in net domestic migration for many large urban counties, as these areas experienced fewer new people moving in as well as an outflow of residents. WEEKLY FINANCIAL NEWS

Financing			Market Commentary
CONV			Data from S&P Global confirmed that home prices continued to slide in January. The Seasonally adjusted S&P CoreLogic Case-Shiller National Home Price Index registered its seventh consecutive monthly drop, amounting to a peak-to-trough decline of 3.0%. Previously reported data from the National Association of Realtors suggest the median home price bounced back in February, reflecting renewed buyer interest brought on by lower mortgage rates in December and January. Although mortgage rates have since resumed their climb, some of that momentum seems to have carried forward to February evidenced by the upside surprise in pending home sales (+0.8%). Population migration patterns appear to be returning to pre-pandemic norms. The onset of COVID spurred a profound impact on population growth in the United States. One significant change brought on by the pandemic was a rapid decline in net domestic migration for many large urban counties, as these areas experienced fewer new people moving in as well as an outflow of residents.
